Intro to Linux Guided Notes

Lesson 2.2.2 - Account Configuration and Management

Name: _____ Class: _____ Date: _____

1. What utility is used to set a password for a user account in Linux?

2. How can you view a user's password information, including its expiration date, in Linux?

3. Which file contains account information for each user, including the default shell used?

4. Where are credentials securely stored in Linux systems?

5. What is the purpose of the /etc/profile file in Linux?

CYBER.ORG

6. What is the purpose of the /etc/skel directory in Linux?

7. Which file is executed upon login in Linux to customize the behavior and environment of the Bash shell for a specific user?

8. What is the primary difference between the .bash_profile and .bashrc files in Linux?

CYBER.ORG